Dear Parents,

A Brave Face – Vamos Theatre

I am excited to say that we have managed to secure tickets to see A Brave Face; a masked theatre performance by experts in their field, Vamos Theatre on Monday 19th March. This is set to be a superb performance telling the story of a soldier returning from Afghanistan, suffering the pain and turbulence of post-traumatic stress. It explores its impact on his life and relationships in the time that follows his return.

We regularly take our GCSE Drama students to see this company and have been lucky enough to have them come in to school to provide workshops with students in the past. Their shows are always of excellent quality and demonstrate just how much can be conveyed simply with physical performance.

This trip is primarily targeted towards students considering GCSE Drama next year but is open to all. However, there are limited tickets available and should the trip become oversubscribed then names will be drawn from a hat and refunds provided to those unsuccessful on this occasion.

We will depart from the school at 6:30pm and expect to return at 9:40pm. Students will not need to be in school uniform but must have eaten dinner, as the timings of the show do not allow us to stop for food.

As we are able to buy tickets at the schools' rate, the total cost will be £13 per person. The deadline to sign up for the trip is 21st February.

Kind regards,

Dan Hagan
